UQ PAL Clinic

What is a PAL Clinic?
The Phonological Awareness for Literacy (PAL) program is a treatment program for children with reading and spelling difficulties. Children will receive 20 hours of group and individual therapy over 5 days.

What treatment will I receive?
Students will conduct the treatment under the close supervision of qualified and experienced speech pathologists. The program will be individually tailored to suit your child’s literacy needs. Each day will include two 1 hour group sessions and two 1 hour individual sessions. Children will learn about sounds and strategies to help them to learn to read and spell more efficiently.

Is my child able to attend?
The PAL Clinic is an appropriate treatment for anyone experiencing difficulty with reading or spelling skills.

Children who are 8-12 years are invited to attend.
